

Alon Mlievski

Full Stack Developer

👤 Profile

A marketing professional turned Full Stack Developer who's passionate about using code to create beautiful and seamless digital solutions. As a Coding Academy graduate, my primary stack is MERN, although these days I'm incorporating more skills into my digital tool belt.

I come with varied experience and soft skills from my past endeavors where I was a significant part of the companies I've worked at, helping them grow their revenue and clientele.

An ardent and organized autodidact, who's truly passionate about learning and growing as a client-side developer.

Looking for Client Side oriented development positions (i.e. FS / FE) - check my portfolio
